

THE SANTA FE NEW MEXICAN

MONDAY, JULY 5, 2010

www.santafenewmexican.com

Walt Schlemmer decried the event as "un-American" between flags. "It's un-American not to know how to cook a pancake."

OK, then. So maybe it wasn't rocket science, but the volunteers working this year's event sure seemed to have perfected what has become one of the city's favorite annual traditions.

Considering the amount of food they prepared, it's hard not to be at least a little impressed with the production.

The numbers rivaled all by Terry Williams-Keller, the 12th-year chairwoman of Pancakes on the Plaza and board member of the Santa Fe County chapter of the United Way, were mind-boggling.

Please see SYRUP, Page A-7

ABOVE: Los Alamos National Laboratory employee Mark Sheppard was one of 500 volunteers on hand during Sunday's Pancakes on the Plaza event.

LEFT: Jim Fennell, with the Sons of the American Revolution, rolls up his flag after a presentation during Sunday's pancake event.

To view a slideshow of the Pancakes on the Plaza event, visit <http://tinyurl.com/2G45N8>.

By John C. Barr
The New Mexican

nation battle of

Activists to back to state

By Michael V.
The New Mexican

WASHINGTON — demanding stricter immigration — inclu
Arizona's new law ch
undocumented immig
argued that state law forced to act because tance to take the lead

But with little sign set on comprehensive reform this year, adv
grants are also being

Please see BAT

BY THE NUMBERS

30,000

(estimated) pancakes served

5,000

vegetarian sausage patties

700

pounds of fruit

300

gallons of orange juice

140

gallons of syrup

